SAVANTS ITS GUESTS

Cosmos Club to Entertain Distinguished Scientists.

WILL BE HERE NEXT WEEK

They Are to Inspect Government Laboratories, See Zoological Gardens and Smithsonian Institution. Wives and Daughters to Be Shown Principal Sights of the City.

Washington, next week, will entertain more than one hundred of the world's most distinguished scientists and savants, delegates to the seventh International Zoological Congress, held in Boston this week. The prominent foreigners, after having finished their work in connection with the congress, will journey to this city, where they will be entertained as special guests of honor by the Cosmos Club.

Dr. L. O. Howard, as chairman of the committee of arrangements, has matters well in hand, and the stay of the distinguished visitors while under the aegis of the Cosmos Club will be made as interesting and agreeable as possible to the delegates, this being their first visit to the capital of the United States.

The programme—which, however, is subject to changes—has been mapped out as follows: The guests will arrive in this city Tuesday evening of next week at 8:30 from Philadelphia, where they will stop off for a short stay. They will be met at the depot in Washington by the Cosmos Club reception committee and escorted to their respective hotels. Many of the visitors will be guests of members of the club.

A smoker on Tuesday evening at the Cosmos Club will introduce the Europeans to their Washington hosts in an informal manner.

Wilson to Welcome Them.
The delegates will be welcomed to the United States in a short address to be delivered by Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, at the Cosmos Club. Commissioner West, representing the District of Columbia, will tender the city's freedom to the guests. Dr. von Graaf, of Graz, Austria, will reply on behalf of the visitors. Dr. von Graaf is the newly elected president of the next International Zoological Congress, to be held at Graz.

The entertainment for Wednesday includes a tour through the Zoological Park on special cars. A complimentary luncheon will be served at the clubhouse at 1 o'clock, and at 2:30 the scientists will visit the various laboratories of the government.

The women of the visiting party will be in charge of the Cosmos Club ladies' committee, and will be shown the Capitol and the Mall, while the men inspect the scientific departments of the government. A special visit to the Library of Congress has been planned for Wednesday evening.

Thursday morning the men will continue their tour of the laboratories and botanical stations, and the ladies will meet at the Arlington Hotel and go thence to the White House and other near-by places of interest. A visit to Mount Vernon at 2 o'clock in the afternoon will add to the attractiveness of the programme.

Thursday evening the guests will be received by the club reception committee at the National Museum, to be followed by an informal reception at the Smithsonian Institution.

Friday morning will again find the visitors at the laboratories, while the women will continue their sightseeing tour of the city. At 1 o'clock the foreigners will leave for New York and Niagara Falls, after which they will return home.

Those Who Will Be Here.

The following named are among the distinguished visitors: Dr. von Graaf, Graz, Austria; Dr. Ghesa Hervath, Budapest, Hungary; Dr. Hubrecht, Amsterdam, Holland; Prof. van der Wey, Amsterdam; Prof. A. Severin, Brussels; Baron de Guerne, Paris; Prof. Raphael Blanchard, Paris; Prof. Braun and Dr. Heymann, Berlin, Germany; Dr. W. E. Hoyle, Manchester, England; A. C. Harner, Cambridge, England; Prof. S. Watsue, Tokyo; Prof. Metchnikoff, St. Petersburg, Russia; Dr. Nedrigaloff, Kharkoff, Russia.

Following are some of the members of the honorary reception committee: Alexander Graham Bell, Gifford Pinchot, Charles J. Bell, Henry P. Blount, John Jay Edson, S. W. Woodard, R. Woodward, president of the Carnegie Institution; President Needham, of George Washington University; President Buel, of Georgetown University; Charles C. Glover, and others. The women's committee of the Cosmos Club consist of Mesdames J. D. Patton, Frank Baker, C. W. Stiles, E. H. Ransom, J. N. Rose, W. I. Adams, Cyrus Adler, L. Stejneger, H. F. Blount, Gardiner Hubbard, Miss Patten, and others. Among those members of the Cosmos Club who are actively engaged in the completion of arrangements are: Dr. Richard Rathbun, acting secretary of the Smithsonian Institution; Dr. Frank Hedges, director of the National Zoological Park; Dr. Cyrus Adler, assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution; Dr. Hugh M. Smith, deputy commissioner of Fisheries; Dr. Barton W. Evermann, Dr. B. H. Ransom, C. L. Mahatt, Dr. K. Fisher, H. C. Oberholzer, H. W. Henshaw, E. A. Schwartz, Dr. Leonard Stejneger, Dr. M. C. Lyon, National Museum; Dr. C. W. Stiles, Public Health and Marine Hospital Service; T. W. Vaughan, of the Geological Survey, and many others.

MILLENNIUM? OH, NO!

Not for Long Does that Blissful State Exist.

MELTS WITH THE ICE CHUNKS

City Sealer Awakens from Utopian Dreams to Find the Short-weight Artist is Again Busy in the District—Prosecutions Instead of Blessings Follow the Ice Men.

These optimistic citizens who recently greeted with glad acclaim the dawn of a new era, ushered in by no less a person than the ice man, will be shocked to learn that the man with the tongue is burdened also with the shiv and weaknesses to which flesh is heir to.

Only a short space ago (alack, how fleeting is the lapse of time!) Col. W. C. Haskell, sealer of weights and measures, submitted to the Commissioners a report in which he stated, boldly and without fear of contradiction, that the drivers were, in the neighborhood of Iowa Circle and Annapolis, delivering an excess of the amount paid for of from two and one-half to five pounds of ice.

Proof of this remarkable statement being demanded, Col. Haskell adduced the testimony of his inspectors, who had made a round of certain houses visited by the ice man, weighing the commodity immediately after its delivery. It was a fact of which there was no gainsaying. The records proved it.

Wonder of the Hour.
Also it was a state of affairs unknown in the annals of the ice companies of Washington. A. S. Kimbly, manager of the American Ice Company, declared he never before had heard of such a thing, and characterized it as "preposterous." Mutual congratulations were extended among the Commissioners, the sealer of weights and measures, and the sealer of the millennium had arrived.

But, though it is a grievous thing to tell, they reckoned without their host—that is to say, the ice men. But a few short weeks have passed and again are brought to the ears of the Commissioners tales of the cupidity of the ice man.

WILL OF ALFRED M. ROCK.

Estate, including Mexican Land, Given to Mother and Sister.

By the terms of a will dated May 2, 1907, and filed for probate yesterday, the property, real and personal, of Alfred Mayer Rock, formerly a resident of Mexico, is left to his mother, Susan Clarkson Rock, and his sister, Amy Cordoba Rock-Kansome.

To the latter is bequeathed all real estate in the department of Alta Vera Paz, Guatemala, and the residue of the estate is bequeathed to his mother, including a house at 1453 Belmont street, which at her death is to revert to her daughter, Frederick L. Kansome and Vernon E. Hodges, of Washington, are named as executors.

The will of Alfred Smith, formerly superintendent of the Senate document room, who died August 24, was filed for probate yesterday. After providing for his funeral expenses and the settlement of his estate the residue, real and personal, is bequeathed to his wife, Mary Hannah Smith, who is named as executrix, without bond. The will is dated April 27, 1894.

Upon information of C. M. Stadden, of 302 Thirteenth street, Henry Armstrong, a driver in the employ of one of the largest ice companies in the city, was arrested yesterday and will to-day be given a hearing in the Police Court.

Waiting at the Ice Box.
Mr. Stadden states that he paid for fifty pounds of ice, but that upon placing it upon the scales found that it registered but thirty-two pounds. Thereupon he requested the driver to bring him the remainder, which he promised to do.
"I remained at the refrigerator," says Mr. Stadden, "holding up the top for him to return. I might have been waiting there yet if my wife hadn't told me that he had driven rapidly away after leaving the house."

Henry will to-day be required to present in the Police Court an explanation of his forgetfulness. As a result of this and similar complaints, Commissioner West yesterday directed the sealer of weights and measures to renew his campaign against the ice men with increased vigor, stating that prosecutions will follow the arrests of all those charged with giving less than the amount paid for.

ROOT'S ROUTE ANNOUNCED.

Secretary Leaves Washington for Mexico September 25.

Arrangements for the trip from Washington to Mexico, of Elihu Root, Secretary of State, have been completed. A detailed itinerary of Secretary Root's trip was made public yesterday.

The Secretary will leave Washington September 25, arriving in St. Louis September 26. He leaves St. Louis on the same evening, arriving in Texarkana, Tex., September 27. Leaving Texarkana he goes to Longview, proceeding direct to Palestine, Tex., at which point he is due at 7:05 p. m.

Secretary Root will be in San Antonio 6:30 a. m. on the morning of September 28, arriving at Laredo at 4:35 p. m. At Laredo he will take President Diaz's private train to Mexico City, arriving there at 6:30 a. m. on September 30, after having reached San Luis Potosi at 2:15 p. m. on September 29.

Secretary Root will be a guest at the International Club's banquet, given in his honor at San Antonio, Tex., September 28.
